

RIFLES ARE HERE

First Modern Ordnance for Wichita Arrives.

WEAPONS ARE BEAUTIES

Steel, Mounted on Steel and Fully Equipped.

For the first time in its history, Wichita is now the home of modern ordnance.

Two of the latest pattern of rifles arrived via the Rock Island, last evening, consigned to Captain Lewis Aspy of the company A. I. K. N. G.

The guns are a luxury. They are as clean-cut, as graceful as a fine blooded race horse. They are of steel, mounted on steel, bright as newly minted dollars.

For years Wichita's sole possession in the way of ordnance was a couple of old brass cannons which probably saw old brass cannons which probably saw service against Santa Anna. Later the government sent as a park decoration a cannon which while tremendous, had never been fired. Next came a Spanish cannon, which in case of foreign attack, could only be used as a club, much as it is prized as a relic.

But the new rifles which came last night are built for business. Some time ago Captain Aspy went to work to get something modern for the company and he is to be congratulated. The United States senator, Governor Stanley and others worked for them. An appropriation was made and the department finally designated them for Wichita. They were tested at Indian Head and have been sent on to Wichita. Technically the weapons are two 3.2 inch breech-loading rifles on steel carriages, with a complete, a dazlingly complete equipment, limber chest, gunner's guide, sunner, priming wires, primer pouches, lanyards, fuse punches, vent punches and what not. Also with the rifles came two sets of wheel harness and two sets of lead harness.

The first time the rifles will be fired will be on October 1, at the opening of the street fair. Captain Aspy thinks the rifles will be stationed that day near the Douglas avenue bridge and sixty-five guns will be fired. Probably a big crowd will congregate about the rifles as about the street fair entrance.

With the new modern breech-loading rifles, the company A already the most proficient in the west, will become more so and will soon be able in quickness and accuracy to compete with any like organization in the country.

A GOOD many conscripts would be cured and the worst cases comforted and relieved by using FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR. Suggest it to those afflicted. You should do this as a FRIEND. G. Gehring, 409 E. Douglas; Geo. Van Warden, 23 N. Main; Wichita Drug Co., 110 E. Douglas; Gus Sauer, 224 E. Douglas.

INCREASE IN ELECTRICAL WORK

Much Wiring of Business Houses for Carnival.

The electricians are busy and there is a scarcity of experienced men. Just now they are so busy on rush orders occasioned by the fall festival and carnival that persons desiring ordinary work done are being put off until the festival work has been completed.

Electricity will play an important part in the festival this year. The electrical equipment, searchlights, wireless telegraphy and the thousand lights of all colors will be everywhere and at all times will serve to remind the spectator of electricity. The electric fountain will be a thing of dazzling beauty, and from all sides will shine brilliant lights of every hue. The visitors at the preceding festival were astonished at the electrical display, while that of last year will be insignificant compared to that of this. One firm alone reports that it now has orders for more electrical work for the festival than was in evidence at the fair last year, and all the other electrical companies are busy, with orders still coming in.

GEO. INNES AND CO.'S OPENING

In the Brilliant Millinery Department Yesterday.

Fifty feet of fall cases, glowing in richness of harmonious colors, glittering in plumes finely pressed, and velvets of softest weave, with innumerable tables between laden with hundreds of eye-catching creations in bird-crowns, chignons and glowing ornaments, drew hundreds of women to the millinery opening of George Innes & Co. yesterday, as a garden of new blown roses draws flower-viewers.

The opening began Tuesday and continuing yesterday has proven itself unprecedented in the experience of those interested. Professor Rumba's orchestra filled the air with strains that seem to blend with these arch-creations of feminine taste.

Miss L. J. Burack, in charge of the department, says that the display in

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank. Respectfully yours,

QUEEN IS KEPT BUSY

Committee in Conference
With Miss Hinton.

HAS NOT SELECTED ROBES

Eight Young Ladies to be Maid of Honor.

Miss Myrtle Hinton, the queen-elect of the carnival, was one of the busiest young women in Wichita yesterday.

From early morning until late last night she was receiving the congratulations of her friends and was also in consultation with members of the queen committee regarding the plan for the coronation.

Miss Hinton found time during the day to look, just a little while, at samples of cloth for the splendid robes which she is to wear at the coronation and during the different events of the carnival. She made no selection yesterday, but that matter will be decided later on.

Miss Hinton was kept busy at the telephone in her home on the night the contest closed in receiving the congratulations of friends. The telephone bell rang at intervals for more than two hours, and yesterday morning early a number of boxes of splendid flowers were sent to the home of the queen.

One of the things which came up for consideration yesterday by Miss Hinton and the committee in charge was the matter of the queen's float of the flower parade.

The decision was made that the float is to be decorated in white and gold and will be drawn by four white horses with a number of footmen in attendance. The queen will sit under a canopy in the rear of the float and will be visible to every one.

Miss Hinton was seen at her home last evening by a reporter for the Eagle and in conversation she said:

"I was much surprised at the honor bestowed upon me and have not recovered from it yet. My friends have been very kind to me and I have been receiving congratulations all day. From early this morning until just now I have been on the rush and yet it seems as though nothing has been accomplished."

"Have you selected your robes yet?"

"No. The selection has not been made. I have looked at a number of pieces of goods, but will not decide for a little while yet."

"What are you considering for your robes?"

"Well, they will either be of broad silk or plain white. The latter will be a good one, but have thought nothing of it, but presume that it will be purple."

"How do you propose to spend the money appropriated by the committee?"

"It will all be spent in the robes and cape. Of course there will be other things to think of when the time comes, but just now, I have no idea as to more than those."

"Have you selected your maids of honor yet?"

"No, they have not been selected. Of course I have been thinking about them, but no definite decision has been made. There will probably be eight maids of honor, and perhaps only six, but I prefer eight. They will all be gown in white."

"In addition to the maids of honor, there will be two flower girls for the coronation and also a page."

"These things have all come on me so sudden that I have not had time to think everything over, but will announce the selection of the maids of honor just as soon as they are made."

Yesterday Mr. Edward Wall ordered a fine crown set with jewels from the east and will be used in the coronation of the carnival week. The crown will be a fine one and even more elaborate than the one used last year.

"I had a running sore on my leg for seven years," writes Mrs. Jas. Forest of Cheppewa Falls, Wis., "and spent hundreds of dollars in trying to get it healed. Two boxes of BANNER SALVE cured it." G. ## WEBB-COUNSEL NUPTIALS

Well Known Young People Married at August.

Two young people well known in this city and county were married at August last Monday. They are Mr. Sebastian Webb and Miss Kathleen Webb. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Woodhouse at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Webb, in the presence of the relatives and a very few friends of the contracting parties.

The groom, Mr. Webb, is a brother of Ex-County Commissioner Webb and owns considerable property in this and other counties.

Miss Webb is a charming young lady and is a sister of Mrs. Anna Rutan of this city. The young people left immediately after the ceremony was performed for the east, where they will spend a number of weeks.

ON THEIR WEDDING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Purviance of St. Louis
Here.

Mr. C. M. Purviance, whose parents live in this city, and Miss Katie Sullivan of East St. Louis, were married at the home of the bride in East St. Louis on Sunday, September 16. Immediately after the ceremony the newly married couple left St. Louis for this city and are now visiting with relatives in this city.

Mr. C. W. Purviance is a Kansas by birth and was formerly connected with the accounting department of the White-Packer Packing company in this city and after the closing of the plant here, Mr. Purviance secured a position with the Nelson Morris Packing company of St. Louis and is now superintendent of the St. Louis plant.

CAN'T HEAR FROM SON

Mr. and Mrs. Dye Have No News
From Galveston.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dye of this city are almost distracted because they hear nothing from their son, John R. Dye, who was in Galveston two weeks ago. None of the published lists of dead shows his name and they hope he is all right. But he does not write and they can secure no word from him. He was a really letter writer and his silence is discouraging. Mr. Dye has lived in Galveston for about two years, going from Wichita to that city. He formerly lived in El Dorado. The chances are that he has been so busy helping clear up the effects of the destruction that he has found no means of communication with his parents.

A DAILY NUISANCE.

A Simple Remedy Which Will Inter-catarrh Sufferers.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

Catarrh is essentially a disease of the mucous membranes, the local symptoms being a profuse discharge of mucus, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in the throat, causing coughing, sneezing, gagging and frequent clearings of the throat and head.

The usual treatment by local douches, snuffs, salves, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be obtained by a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood and the disappearance of the inflammation from the mucous surfaces.

A new remedy which meets these requirements and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These tablets act upon the blood and mucous membranes only. They can hardly be called a secret patent medicine, as they are composed of such valuable remedies as Sanguinaria, Hydrastis, Eucalyptol and similar cleansing antiseptics, which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous surfaces the catarrhal poison.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant-tasting lozenges taken internally, allowing them to dissolve slowly in the mouth, in this way they reach the throat, fauces and the entire alimentary canal.

If desired, they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, in addition to the internal use, but it is not at all necessary to use a douche; a few of these dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of these tablets will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche.

Dr. Beant states "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching and local application," and further says "that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer, more palatable, more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

place on sale numerous articles from all parts of the United States. The plan of the ladies has been to send letters to the various manufacturers telling them of the institution and asking them to send something to be placed here during the fair. Every reply, and there are no small number of the replies, has been enthusiastic over the plan and all are willing to help the ladies with their enterprise.

The articles to be sent to the booth will be novelties of every description and to attempt for any one to name them would be an impossibility. There will be books, articles for wear, ornaments, eatables, books and many other things.

The ladies have met with such splendid success in that part of the effort and are working hard to make the last part of the undertaking a splendid affair.

W. B. Hays Visiting Friends Here Yesterday.

Mr. W. B. Hays has just returned from Cape Nome and everybody he meets has a number of questions to ask him. He has a number of questions to ask him. He has a number of questions to ask him.

He states that Cape Nome is a good place for a young man. He was there from the 14th of June until the 6th of August and intends to go back there next June.

He says: "The work season here is practically only about three months long, extending from about the middle of June till the first of September. Nine months of the year nothing much can be done and all communications are shut off. During the summer season it is light all the time. The work during this period is visible all the time, with the exception of about three hours, from 11 o'clock at night till 1 o'clock the next morning, and even during this time it is quite light. The people stay up until they get sleepy and then go to bed, no matter what the hour, and the same way with their eating. When they get hungry they eat, not considering the hour in the least. Meals are very high, ranging, according to the season, from $3 and up per meal, early in the summer season, to a little less as the season advances. Nearly all fresh meat is at a pound."

"The gold prospects are exceedingly flattering and all that remains to get at is proper machinery and capital."

Mr. Hays thinks the whole country up there is full of gold, but he says, "It is like the money in our banks; you can't get it all."

He describes Cape Nome as being a fine city of 3,000 inhabitants, extending for ten miles or more along the shore. There are any number of fine three-story buildings, but all built of wood, no brick or stone being used even for the foundations.

Mr. Hays left in the afternoon for his home at Haystack.

IN THE THIRD DEGREE

Jury Finds W. R. Walden
Guilty of Manslaughter.

BUFORD IS ACQUITTED

Case Resulted From Death of Thomas Hoffman.

The jury in the case of Buford-Walden, who were charged with the murder of Thos. Hoffman, returned a verdict yesterday morning adjudging Walden guilty of manslaughter in the third degree. No charge was returned against Walden's companion, Buford, and he will be released from custody.

The case has been up in court for several days and as it was one of the most important cases on the present docket, it was the most stubbornly contested. Adams & Adams were the attorneys for the defendants and County Attorney Amidon, assisted by James Conly, had charge of the prosecution for the state.

A number of witnesses for both sides were put on the stand and the cross-examining was very closely watched by the attorneys. An entire day was taken up in the arguments and the whole history of the case was entirely gone over. The defendants were put on the witness stand and told the story of how the affair occurred.

The case went to the jury on Tuesday night just before 5 o'clock and the jury remained out all night and a greater part of the morning. A number of ballots were taken and at each one there was usually a change in the voting. At one time the sentiment was nearly in favor of clearing both men of the charge, but before the end another ballot the opinion of the jurors had changed. It was a surprise to some of the men that they reached a verdict when they did, because of the fact that the vote had been such a changing one.

The crime in which the two men were implicated, and Walden convicted, occurred last July on the Santa Fe tracks near Derby. It was at the time the great rush of men to the harvest fields and the railroad people were having much trouble with the people riding on their trains.

Walden and Buford, according to the testimony brought out in the trial, got on the freight train at Winfield and had the intention of riding to Newton if it was possible. The men were detected just north of Derby by the brakeman Hoffman and was told by him to get off the train while it was in motion, and the train refused to stop. After an altercation, Hoffman signalled for the engineer to stop the train. When the speed commenced to slacken the men climbed down on the side of a car and Hoffman followed them with a board which he had jerked out of the top of one of the cars. When the men jumped off on the ground, Hoffman did likewise, and after some words started after the two men with his board. At this time a general fight ensued and in the affair Hoffman was injured, but at the time it was not thought that his wounds were serious. After arriving in this city Dr. Purdie examined the man's wounds and he was sent to the hospital in Topeka, where he died a few days later.

As soon as the wounded man arrived in the city the officers were notified of the affair and they immediately secured a switch engine and went after the men who had left the train at Derby. The two men, Buford and Walden, were found near Derby walking toward this city, and were brought back here and lodged in jail.

The case was bitterly fought in the court and every opportunity where it was possible to gain a point, the attorneys took advantage of it. Adams & Adams have announced their intention of filing a motion today for a new trial of the case.

THAT FLOCK OF HAWKS

Stopping Here Are Harmless and Should Not Be Shot.

To the Editor of the Eagle.

Last evening I rode down to the park and on the way met a couple of gentlemen coming to town with their guns in the buggy. One called to me: "Hello, Doc, you missed all the sport—twenty-five hawks."

"I did not recognize the speaker, and made no answer, but I just kept on thinking, 'Twenty-five hawks' killed by one man in one evening. For what? Could be or any one else give a good reason? No, I am sure not, for there is none. The best possible reason I can give is a cruel, baseless ignorance. The hawk is designated 'chicken hawk' and is supposed to be an enemy to man. This isn't true. The hawk and owl both are as valuable to the interests of men as any of the birds, and they are nearly all useful. There are thirteen varieties of hawks in this part of Texas. Tomorrow the Santa Fe will commence the taking of freight from this city for Galveston and will guarantee it will get to Galveston all right."

The traffic with Galveston has been very heavy on every road and the steam has lost the companies operating in that city large sums of money. At the present time there are shipments here which will be sent out on tomorrow's train.

CONSTRUCTION IS NOW ON

Dold Booth to Be a Fine Structure at Street Fair.

The Dold pavilion for the street fair is now in course of construction in its position at the corner of Market and Engle streets. The roof has been put on and in a few days the structure will be ready for the decorator. It will be all white and is to be one of the finest attractions in the way of exhibits on the street fair grounds.

At night the pavilion will be lighted by a large number of incandescent lights, probably 300, and in the center of the interior will be a large arc to give the proper light for the young ladies and the assistants who will reign over the sales for the visitors.

Already many people are beginning to ask about the Dold exhibit and at different times during the day persons may be seen looking at the structure in its uncompleted state.
